Flipbook is an online interactive format for presenting traditional print documents – books, magazines, catalogs or brochures – in web and on a variety of mobile devices. This format makes digital issues resemble paper ones and helps drive more attention and engagement to the content.

A publication made with the help of a professional flipbook creator will look good on any desktop computer, iPhone, iPad or Android tablet/smartphone. Moreover, if you embed the flipbook into your website, it will help you avoid media-break between the website and the document that your readers may experience, when you use PDF files for additional content.

First Sunday of Lent

Genesis 9: 8-15

Psalms 25: 4-5, 6-7, 8-9

1 Peter 3: 18-22

Mark 1: 12-15

SUMMARY

In Deuteronomy we read about God rescuing His people from Egypt and their giving harvest offerings in praise. Psalms reminds us of all God will do for those who acknowledge Him as Lord. Romans' says it is by our faith that we are put right with God and lastly, Luke takes us to the desert where the devil tempts Jesus.

REFLECTION

I was drawn to this particular reading because of a recent visit to an art gallery. I took a photo of a painting depicting the most stunning image of Jesus and the devil conversing high on a mountain, overlooking a valley.

Jesus is seated on a boulder while the devil stands, leaning in with the rock he wants Jesus to turn into bread. I imagine Jesus is physically tired and weak from being in the desert. The devil surely believes he has the upper hand.

The desert is lonely, quiet and without resources. It's a place where one is dependent and vulnerable, but ironically, it's also a place that allows one to find inner strength and courage. In the Old Testament, it's a place of testing. Luke's gospel reading tells of the Holy Spirit leading Jesus into the desert where he remains for forty days and is tempted by the devil. The beauty and wisdom comes in Jesus' response each time he refuses to be lead astray. "It is written", followed by scripture befitting of the situation, emerges from Jesus with each offering or test the devil presents and eventually causes the devil to back off, for the time being. The appeal to physical needs and desires of the mind, in attempt to disrupt our walk with God, are indeed the work of the devil. He preys on those who are in the desert hoping to catch them before courage is found and faith restored. This gospel reading teaches us that our relationship and duty to God are more important than anything! Physical satisfaction, power and wealth, nor testing God's love brings us closer to His kingdom.

Plain and simple, the devil's work is to turn us away from our walk with God. It's more easily accomplished if we are weak in our faith and driven by our physical needs and desires of the mind, our ego. Only the devil makes promises that satisfy our ego. Jesus was not distracted in the desert by the devil's temptations because He placed God the Father above all things. By quoting scripture, to which the devil had no response, Jesus was able to ward off the devil and steer clear of his temptations. If we are strong in our faith and clear in our response to renounce the devil, then his attacks will be futile. As we journey through Lent, let us be mindful of our Lord's example. Remember all of the devils promises are deceitful and if we resist him, he too will flee from us.

PRAYER

Dear gracious God
During this Lenten season,
let our practices of fasting, almsgiving and prayer
help us be mindful of the fact that You alone are what we need above all else.
Help strip us of desire for feeding our ego and watch over us as we journey through our own deserts.
In Your name we pray.
Amen

Maureen McCann Waldron shares her reflection on today's retreat:

Love, peace, patience, generosity, gentleness. These wonderful gifts of the Holy Spirit are both simple and nearly impossible to use. A moment of prayer often helps me find one of these gifts when I most need it. On the other hand I'm least likely to ask for help during that moment of stress.

But these wonderful gifts are the oil that keep all relationships working. They help us loosen the grip of our self-centeredness and anger. They ease the tight grasp of a grudge that seems so important to hang onto. They fuel us with superhuman patience in the face of a stubborn two year old and with deep peace in moments of crisis.

Holy Spirit, shower us with your gifts and help us share those gifts in our lives today.

Saturday of the Twenty-eighth Week in Ordinary Time
Lectionary: 472

Reading 1

ROM 4:13, 16-18

Brothers and sisters:
It was not through the law that the promise was made to Abraham and his descendants that he would inherit the world, but through the righteousness that comes from faith. For this reason, it depends on faith, so that it may be a gift, and the promise may be guaranteed to all his descendants, not to those who only adhere to the law but to those who follow the faith of Abraham, who is the father of all of us, as it is written, I have made you father of many nations. He is our father in the sight of God, in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into being what does not exist. He believed, hoping against hope, that he would become the father of many nations, according to what was said, Thus shall your descendants be.

Responsorial Psalm

PS 105:6-7, 8-9, 42-43

R. (8a) The Lord remembers his covenant for ever.
You descendants of Abraham, his servants,
sons of Jacob, his chosen ones!
He, the LORD, is our God;
throughout the earth his judgments prevail.
R. The Lord remembers his covenant for ever.
He remembers forever his covenant
which he made binding for a thousand generations –
Which he entered into with Abraham and by his oath to Isaac.
R. The Lord remembers his covenant for ever.
For he remembered his holy word
to his servant Abraham.
